Look at the different facts about elephants. What else do you know about elephants? Do you like them? What do you like about them? What else would you like to find out about them?

The African elephant is the largest living animal that lives on land!

Baby elephant

A baby elephant is called a calf.

Rolling in mud

Elephants roll in mud to help protect their skin from the sun and from insects biting them.

Trunk

An elephant's trunk is a long nose. An elephant uses its trunk to breathe, smell, drink, pick up things, especially food, and for trumpeting!

Can you make a trumpeting sound like an elephant?
